

Quality Glass cannot accept responsibility for auto or flat glass brought in to our shops from any outside provider. In the event of breakage or damage, the cost for repair or replacement is the responsibility of the customer.

Additionally, work performed by outside vendors or the customer with material purchased at Quality Glass is not our responsibility once it has left the premises. We are not responsible for any damage or breakage caused after the glass has been installed or transported.

Please understand that glass is a fragile substance, and that we cannot guarantee its integrity unless it comes from a Quality Glass approved supplier.

Thank you for understanding,

Quality Glass Management
